Company Profile

COMPANY INFORMATION

Nanjing Henglande Machinery Technology Co. Ltd is a professional manufacturing company integrating research, development, design and production of "parallel twin screw extruders, single screw extruders, Tripe screw extruders" and screw elements and kneading elements.

The company has built a high level of professional machine design team, equipped with advanced computer-aided design system, to research and develop the advanced level of machine industry plastic products and single and double screw extruder and its accessories, better meet customer needs, and laid a solid foundation.

Nanjing Henglande Machinery Technology Co. Ltd mainly produces any single lead, symmetrical key, inner spline, internal octagonal, inner six corner, inner involute, cross key screw element and kneading element with 50-150. The product is made of high quality, high Gonggang W6MO5Cr4V2 nitriding steel 38CrMOALA as raw material, the use of advanced production technology for production. In order to improve the inspection means to ensure product quality.

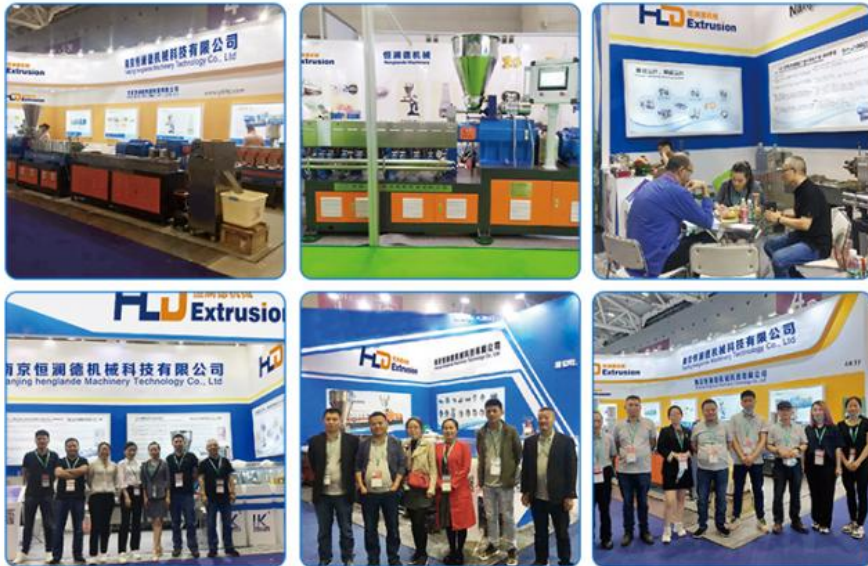

The products produced by this product are stable in performance, reliable in quality, well received by the users, and have a good market reputation. At the same time, the company can carry out the design and production and production of the screw element and kneading element according to the customer's demand and provide the customers with home surveying and mapping service.

The plastic extruder produced by the company not only meets the domestic market, but also devotes itself to the international market.
